From the Desk of the Director

Dear students,

The Indian Law Institute will be completing its sixty years in December this year. The Indian Law Institute (ILI) – now the premier Institute in the country in the field of legal research and higher education in law – was established with the objective of promoting advanced studies and research in law. Over the years the ILI has established itself as an institution of excellence in the field of law. We have a legacy of critical legal research where ILI sought not only to reform, but re-imagine the Law. Our research agenda is driven by the vision of constitutional justice, and accessibility and social justice remain our guiding stones.

We can proudly say that today when education is driven by the logic of market, the ILI strives everyday to translate legal education into socially relevant justice education. In view of its commitment for promotion of legal research and advanced studies in different fields of law in the country, ILI offers only postgraduate courses in law. Apart from the doctoral degree, it offers the Masters Course in Law i.e., LL.M. The LL.M. course was introduced as the flagship programme of the ILI in the academic year 2005–2006 with limited number of seats. In the light of recent developments in higher education in law, from academic year 2016-17, ILI will only conduct one consolidated LL.M. one year programme. The LL.M. course has been modelled as per the guidelines issued by the University Grants Commission, and this year we will be re-structuring and revising the course with the aim of foregrounding research and promoting critical thinking.

We strongly believe that legal education needs to re-invent itself continually to meet the challenges of the contemporary moment and thus we try to revise our curriculum periodically. In order to provide better and wider exposure to the students, the ILI regularly organizes special lectures and addresses by eminent scholars from India and abroad. ILI also has a full-fledged video conferencing facility to connect students and faculty with legal luminaries, scholars and writers in different parts of the world. The ILI encourages participative learning by regular seminars and panel discussions for LL.M. students on variety of legal issues having contemporary relevance.

The ILI has one of the biggest law libraries in Asia with about 80,000 titles in law and allied subjects. Library receives about 260 legal periodicals including serial publications. Its digital wing i.e., Legal Information Resource Centre(LIRC) has almost all legal databases including SCC Online, AIR Infotech, Law Premium, West Law, Lexis – Nexis, Heinonline, JSTOR, etc. The ILI undertakes research projects from various Ministries and the Departments of the Government and other agencies and instrumentalities of the State. It organizes national and international seminars and conferences and provides an opportunity for students to take part in such activities. Students, faculties and researchers from different parts of the country and abroad regularly visit the Institute mainly for the purpose of doctoral and post-doctoral research and also to take part in various academic activities of the Institute.

We are making serious efforts to create an intellectually stimulating environment for our students and researchers in order to reinforce our founding objectives. In this journey, all critical feedback is productive and will help us to realise the promise of justice education that the ILI has made to the students.

We extend a warm welcome to you all to be a part of this endeavour.

Director

The Indian Law Institute

1. The Institute

The Indian Law Institute (ILI) was founded in 1956 primarily with the objective of promoting and conducting legal research. It was established as a result of the efforts of the leading jurists of India for over a number of years. It is a truism that a sound legal order is the basis of a democratic society, because law is one of the major instrumentalities by which a society can hope to prosper and develop. There were many important reasons impelling the establishment of a national legal research centre. First, there was a need for reinvigorating legal research as the law, the legal research and the legal education had been neglected areas in India, both before and after the independence. Second, there was a need for a sustained institutionalized research encompassing projects requiring field studies and group thinking. Third, it was necessary to bring together different branches of the legal profession, namely, judges, lawyers and law teachers with a view to develop an integrated approach to law in society.

The objectives of the Institute are to cultivate the science of law, to promote advanced studies and research in law so as to meet the social, economic and other needs of the Indian people, to promote systematization of law, to encourage and conduct investigations in legal and allied fields, to improve legal education, to impart instructions in law, and to publish studies, books, periodicals, etc.

The Institute is an autonomous body registered under the Societies Registration Act, 1860. The autonomous character of the Institute and its independence ensure the requisite academic freedom to carry out its objectives and meaningful research. Its funds come mainly from the Government of India, Ministry of Law & Justice and also from membership fees and sale of its publications. The membership of the Institute is now nearly three thousand and three hundred representing the persons interested in the study and advancement of law.

Hon'ble Chief Justice of India is the ex-officio President of the Institute. The Law Minister of Government of India and the Attorney General for India are its ex-officio Vice Presidents. Third Vice-President is elected by the members of the Governing Council, from among themselves. Judges of the Hon'ble Supreme Court of India and High Courts, Lawyers, Government officials, Vice Chancellors, Deans and Professors of Law are represented in the Governing Council of the Institute.
