About the University

Babasaheb Bhimrao Ambedkar Bihar University, Muzaffarpur was initially established in the name of University of Bihar (i.e. fo'ofokky) in 1952 at Patna as the 2nd University in Bihar and as one of the fifteen oldest Universities in Independent India. Rai Bahadur Shyam Nandan Sahay was its founder Vice-Chancellor. Originally its jurisdiction extended over the entire State of Bihar (including the portion of present Jharkhand State) except the Colleges and P.G. (Post Graduate) Departments located in Patna which formed the part of Patna University.

Further the Bihar University Act 1960 bifurcated University of Bihar into three Universities as given below:-

- ? Bihar University, Muzaffarpur
- ? Ranchi University, Ranchi
- ? Bhagalpur University, Bhagalpur

Furthermore, Magadha University, Gaya was created by separating it from Bihar University under Bihar University Act 1960.

Later, Mithila University, Darbhanga was created in 1973 by getting it separated from Bihar University.

Once more, Bihar University was bifurcated into Bihar University, Muzaffarpur and Jay Prakash University, Chapra in 1990.

In 1992, Bihar University was renamed as Babasaheb Bhimrao Ambedkar Bihar University, Muzaffarpur.

The present Territorial jurisdiction of B.R.A. Bihar University, Muzaffarpur is spread over 6 Districts of Muzaffarpur, Vaishali, Sitamarhi, Shivhar, East Champaran and West Champaran in North Bihar.
